McSparren Hit Hard by School Teachers Rally for Finegan!

Democratic Candidate Raps School Roads and Financial Methods in Address Here Thursday; Declares Pinchot Creature of Penrose Organization to Large Turnout.

After Hon. John A. McSparren, Democratic candidate for governor, criticised and flayed educational methods in Pennsylvania and denounced that which he termed "the Finegan school system" as "a needless extravagance," in an address delivered before the court house in Smethport last Thursday afternoon, the McKean County Teachers' Institute, in session in the court room, not only countered his attack with an expression of belief in the educational policy adopted and carried out by Superintendent of Public Instruction Thomas E. Finegan, but voted whole-hearted approval of his policy together with its pledge of support. The resolution was adopted without a dissenting vote. A large number of teachers in attendance on the institute heard Mr. McSparren's address.

A goodly-sized crowd greeted Hon. John A. McSparren on his arrival in Smethport last Thursday at the noon hour. Although the day was anything but agreeable, a large number of men and women assembled on the court house grounds at 1 p. m. to welcome to the Democratic standard bearer. Accompanying Mr. McSparren were Judge Samuel Shull, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator; Hon. Frank Snyder, candidate for congress; George A. Simpson, chairman McKean county Democratic committee, and several newspaper correspondents. For the reason that the party had to make Bradford and other points during the day, the time was so limited in Smethport that the other candidates deferred to Mr. McSparren following a few remarks.

Evidently aware that a large number of teachers were in the audience, Mr. McSparren lost no time in criticising the educational system of the state. He said, in part:

"The campaign attending the removal and centralization of Pennsylvania's education problems in Harrisburg was the most infamous vilification of this commonwealth," he declared.

"When educators, in their nefarious work of taking away the power of local school superintendents and placing it in the hands of machine politicians, compiled statistics to show that Montana ranks first in education and Pennsylvania takes only 21st place, they brought the honored name of Pennsylvania down into the mire and vilified the good name of every citizen of the commonwealth," he continued, and cited a number of honor students in colleges and universities throughout the country to illustrate his contention that this state has produced better students and men of letters than many other states in the union long before old man Finegan was heard of."

He charged that this alleged system of defamation had no other end in view than to form a powerful machine on Capitol Hill for the control of the state government.

The illiteracy in Pennsylvania, he said, is due to the influx of immigrants attracted to this commonwealth in preference to other states because we offer them better opportunities for advancement. He condemned the Finegan schol system as a needless extravagance resulting in no more than could have been predicated to the individual county superintendents of schools.

Mr. McSparren denied in emphatic terms charges advanced that one of the first things he will do if placed in the gubernatorial chair, will be to cut down teachers' salaries. "The money promised to the schools," he declared, "must be paid even if several departments at Harrisburg must be eliminated. The present system was created for the sole purpose of providing a whole army of jobs for political henchmen of the machine. And it is in those jobs that cuts will be made if I get to Harrisburg."

In assailing the work of the state highway department, Mr. McSparren charged that with an expenditure of $1,150,000 all that the department has to show for it is 1,300 miles of improved road. "Some of these roads," he said, "have already been resurfaced and the rest of them need to be already. Pennsylvania is spending from $60,000 to $75,000 for every mile of road it builds, whereas it is costing the neighboring state of Ohio only $33,000 a mile to build good roads."

"The health department has been centralized at Capitol Hill; the road department has been similarly centralized; the department of education directs the future of our young people generation from Harrisburg; all other departments of the state government at which properly belongs in the hands of local districts have been grouped at Harrisburg, taking from the people the right to self government. Pennsylvanians are not even allowed the execution of those laws that are totally local in application."

Commenting on Mr. Pinchot's claim that he is an independent Republican candidate Mr. McSparren charged that his nomination was "put over" by the old Penrose clan. He argued that in spite of Mr. Pinchot's protestations that if elected he will clean up the mess at Capitol Hill," the Republican nominee, if elected, will be handicapped in the laundering process by compulsory association with Joe Grundy, whom the speaker characterized as "the apostle of child labor in Pennsylvania" and "the man who writes the tax laws each time the legislature meets;" Harry Baker, whom the speaker said "as chief clerk of the Senate tells the lieutenant Governor whether a bill must be passed or pickled;" Senators David A. Reed and George Wharton Pepper and other Republican state leaders.

His final appeal for support of the Democratic ticket at the November election was based on the proposition that "you have nothing to lose, as the next government could not possibly be worse than the last and you are taking a sporting chance at seeing things run better."

NAMES WOMEN TO HELP GET OUT THE VOTE ON ELECTION DAY, NOV. 7th.

The Republican women of McKean county are to make an organized effort to see that every Republican woman votes at the coming election. With this end in view, County Chairman G. Scott Smith of the McKean County Republican committee has appointed women in almost every district in the county as an auxiliary to the regular county committee and these women will assist the regularly elected committeemen.

Mrs. William Doyle of Marshburg, the only woman regularly elected to the county committee, has been named as vice-chairman. Following is a list of women named in the various voting precincts in the Smethport vicinity:

EAST SMETHPORT'S WANTS GIVE RISE TO FOND HOPES OF EARLY AMALGAMATION

In all probability East Smethport will be extended an invitation within the next few days to unite with Smethport by process of annexation.

With the knowledge that East Smethport residents desire the same advantages that the people of Smethport enjoy, Borough Manager Backus started the ball rolling at council meeting last Monday night by making request that council join with the Conopus club in furtherance of the proposed union. In commenting on the subject, Mr. Backus expressed the opinion that a careful survey of the field would reveal that acceptance of union on the part of East Smethport would mean lower taxes than property owners of that bailiwick are paying now.

At the request of R. Kessler, jr., of the Norwich Chemical company, Manager Backus and Superintendent Norman of the borough electrical department, are considering plans to supply the Norwich concern with electricity. With the knowledge that if this proves successful, other institutions together with residences will make similar requests, there comes the thought of annexation, and the belief prevails that union will mean greater economy in the matter of taxes to Smethport and East Smethport alike. In any event an effort will be made to prove or disprove this theory—an effort in which both council and the Conopus club will join.

McKEAN COUNTY INSTITTTE QUITS FRIDAY FOLLOWING FINEST MEETING IN YEARS

Following an expression of thanks to instructors, pastors and citizens of Smethport for entertainment and assistance given them, the teachers composing the McKean County Teachers' Institute voted aye" on a motion to adjourn, last Friday, thus bringing to a close one of the most successful institutes ever held.

Features of the closing session were: The election of Principal Stanley Bright of Smethport and Principal Ralph Dewey of Kane institute auditors; the election of Principal Alderice of Port Allegany, Principal J. L. Heineman of Foster township, and Principal Ralph Dewey of Kane, delegates, and Miss Margaret McEwan of Kane and Mr. Young of Mt. Jewett, alternates; to the state convention; and the adoption of a resolution expressing confidence in the educational policy of Superintendent of Public Instruction Thomas E. Finegan and pledging him united support.

Other features were: Doctor Burton's closing address of the week on "The Modern Novel," in which he discussed such works as David Harum, Eben Holden, Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch and Main street, novels, he declared, wherein we recognized certain familiar types with certain personal touches of the authors added. Contrasting these works with such productions as Lorna Doone, The Cloister and the Hearth and A Tale of Two Cities, he showed wherein there are two appeal—personality and altruistic interests in others.

A report of the committee on local institutes containing several recommendations was read as follows:

The committee on local institutes beg to present the following arrangements:

Foster, Lewis Run borough, Bradford, Corydon: February 3rd, at Bradford.

Norwich: February 10th, at Bellvale.

Kane borough, Mt. Jewett borough, Wetmore, Hamlin, Hamilton: February 17th, at Kane.

Smethport borough, Keating, Sergeant: February 24th, at Smethport.

Port Allegany borough, Annin, Liberty: March 3rd, at Port Allegany.

Eldred borough, Eldred, Otto: March 10th, at Eldred.

Ceres: March 17th, at Ceres.

In the matter of local institutes the committee thought it advisable to leave the matter to the judgment of the districts and boroughs comprising the several local institutes.

The institute closed with the singing of "Pennsylvania."

DEFEATED BY BRADFORD, SMETHPORT NEVERTHELESS OUTPLAYS HER OPPONENT

Playing with a rather broken-up line-up, Smethport Hi was defeated by Bradford Hi at Bradford, Saturday, by a tally of 9 to 0. With Paul Mundy, Smethport's crack end out of the game, and Colliostro with a sprained wrist shifted from halfback to guard position, Smethport presented a team of men entirely new to the position they were playing. But, despite this and the additional fact that it was Smethport's first out-of-town game, the boys held their own after the first score was made.

The game started at 3:30. Smethport kicked to Bradford. The ball was brought up to the 25-yard line. The very first play Bradford threw a pass to Birmingham who, like a fox, was hiding over near the side lines, unseen by the Smethport end. He nipped the ball out of the air and had an open field for a touchdown. Thus Smethport found the score 6 to 0 in Bradford's favor before they had a chance to realize they were playing a football game. But even though Bradford got the jump on them, the Smethport boys outplayed their opponents at every point. Throughout the game the ball was in danger but once, when Smethport fumbled and it fell within one foot of Bradford's goal. In the last half Smethport had the ball in enemy territory continually, but failure to score was due largely to flukes.

In the final quarter Birmingham, Bradford's star end, drop-kicked from the 30-yard line, making the score 9-0. It was one of the prettiest drop-kicks ever seen on the Bradford gridiron.

In the third quarter Red Halpenny, Smethport's half-back, made a 65-yard run to the goal line, but was called back, he being out of bounds. Rickey starred at end; Metzgar made things hum at his tackle position. The line-up: Bouton, r. e.; Metzgar, r. t.; Benge, r. g.; Kohn, c.; Coglostro, r. g.; R. Miller, l. t.; Rickey, l. e.; Halpenny, l. h. b.; E. Mundy, r. h. b.; A. Miller, f. b.

Next Saturday Smethport plays Eldred at Smethport, on Kane field. Eldred has a fast team and expects to win. A large crowd is expected as this is the game that foot ball fans of Smethport have been waiting for.

RED CROSS MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Red Cross will be held in Attorney T. A. Morrison's office, Monday, October 23, at 7 p. m. All members of the Smethport chapter and any one interested in the local chapter are earnestly requested to attend as it is now time for the annual roll call and election of officers.

Murder Charge Filed Following Hot Fight Near Kane, Sunday!

Charles McCormick, 25, Alleged to Have Beaten Harry Reynolds, 64, to Death With Iron Pipe; Tragedy Follows Indulgence in Moonshine; Prisoner Brought to Smethport.

Charles McCormick, charged with the murder of Harry Reynolds, was received by Sheriff Robinson from the Kane authorities Wednesday morning and lodged in jail. The charge against McCormick was made by County Detective Allison. The charge is the outcome of a woodmen's fight which occurred Sunday evening on the Kinzua road, four miles from Kane, and McCormick is alleged to have beaten Reynolds about the head and body with a piece of iron pipe. Reynolds died at 1:12 o'clock p. m. Tuesday.

McCormick assisted in bringing Reynolds to the Kane hospital Sunday night following which he gave himself up to the police.

William Ridgway also is held by the authorities as a material witness.

The reason for the quarrel between the men has not yet been made known. Whatever it was, it started in a dispute when the men were drinking moonshine liquor, and developed into a fight during which the men threw stones at each other, and ended, it is alleged, when McCormick attacked Reynolds and beat him with an iron pipe.

A detailed account of the fight which led to the alleged murder, is contained in the following special dispatch from Kane:

Kane, Penna. October 16.—Harry Reynolds, aged 64, lies in a serious condition in the Kane Summit hospital as the result of a beating he is alleged to have received between 7 and 8 o'clock Sunday night at the hands of Edward McCormick, 25, whom it is alleged used a piece of gas pipe for the purpose and who is now a prisoner in the city jail. William Ridgway, 31, who witnessed the assault is also locked up as a material witness.

The men are woodsmen employed on the log-cutting job of Samuel Friedley and live at a camp near the Kinzua road four miles from this city. The fracas was the result of a moonshine drinking bout in which a number of the woodsmen indulged, although the real motive for the quarrel cannot be learned as the parties concerned were too drunk to remember just what happened.

Reynolds has two ribs broken, one of which it is feared has pierced his lungs. He also has a bad wound on the head, which may possibly caused a fracture of the skull. The men fought and threw stones at each other for some time preceding the assault with the gas pipe.

As near as can be learned the fight took place near the Kinzua road where the woods road into the camp joins the main highway. The men were brought to that point in an automobile, there being four in the party, McCormick, Reynolds, Ridgway and Chas. Donner. McCormick and Reynolds had been quarreling and disputing for some time prior to their arrival there and after leaving the car commenced to throw stones at each other. Finally it is alleged McCormick seized a piece of gas pipe from a pile that was nearby and beat Reynolds about the head and body.

The shock of finding that Reynolds was severely injured seemed to bring McCormick to a realization of what had happened. He went to Jacob Friedley, a brother of the man who owned the camp, and said that he wanted a doctor for Reynolds and wished to give himself up to a policeman. Mr. Friedley consulted with Al. Whiting, who conducts another logging camp in that vicinity, and the injured man and his assailant and Ridgway were brought to Kane. Reynolds was taken to the hospital and the other two men were locked up.

HON. JOHN A. McSPARREN FIGURES IN AUTO CRASH; SUFFERS FRACTURED RIB

Hon. John A. McSparren, Democratic candidate for governor; John M. Cummings of the Philadelphia Record, and John R. Ball of the Pittsburgh Post, experienced a narrow escaped from death last Thursday evening while enroute from Bradford to Coudersport, when a Buick car in which they were riding turned turtle at a point near Coleville.

An obstruction at the side of the road where a sharp curve was in evidence, was the cause of the accident.

All three occupants were caught under the car when it turned over, but were able to extricate themselves. They were immediately returned to Bradford where medical aid was summoned. Examination revealed that Mr. McSparren had sustained deep bruises on chest and arms; Mr. Ball painful injuries to the back, while Mr. Cummings escaped with a few minor bruises.

Mr. McSparren was scheduled to address a mass meeting at Coudersport, Thursday evening, but was compelled to cancel the engagement.

The Buick car was all but wrecked.

Friday morning Mr. McSparren had so far recovered as to proceed to Lock Haven, where, with the rest of his speaking party, he was billed to appear that evening. It has since been ascertained that McSparren suffered a broken rib.

Mr. Ball, the most painfully injured member of the party, remained in Bradford until Saturday, ere leaving for his home in Pittsburgh.

The first news of the accident, containing information of serious injuries to the Democratic standard bearer, produced a distinct shock in Smethport, where Mr. McSparren delivered an address at 1 p. m., and the wires between Smethport and Bradford were kept busy by members of all parties until the assurance was given that he would come through all right.

NEWS OF THE SECTION

and Exchange Clippings

Mt. Jewett—An important deal was closed Thursday, in which Arthur E. Coon became owner of the Thompson block, purchasing same from the Thompson heirs. The deal is one of importance, due to the fact that when it was constructed it contained the largest floor space of any building between Buffalo and Pittsburgh. Thompson Brothers & Co started business here in 1887. The present four story, fire proof structure was completed in 1901.

Clarion — Clyde McLaughlin, 26, of Kane a carpenter employed in the erection of houses for workmen who are to construct the dam along the Clarion river, near Piney, died Friday, and a coroner's jury recommended the arrest of Albert Thompson, also employed on the work. According to the authorities, McLaughlin was struck on the head with a hammer.

State College—The college students celebrated their going "over the top" in their $250,000 campaign to aid the college emergency building fund.

St. Marys—In conversation with Judge E. G. Beck, he stated that on Ocober 12, sixteen years ago, the ground was covered with a heavy fall of snow and the weather was very cold. Judge Beck further stated that on that day he was one of a party of Knights of Columbus members who went to Pittsburgh to be admitted to the fourth degree of the order. Sometime during the previous night the mains gas line leading into Pittsburgh broke and the city was practically without heat, and it was necessary for the guests at the hotel to keep their overcoats on while in the building.

Coudersport—The Potter County Cooperative Potato Growers' Association warehouse at Coudersport is rapidly nearing completion and it is expected that it will be so far completed by Monday as to enable the storing of Potter county tubers in it. This building will have a capacity of 75,000 bushels and it is presumed that it will be filled this season.

Shinglehouse—Mrs. Lydia A. Deming, aged 77 passed away Saturday, October 7. She leaves five children: Mrs. Minnie Dunaley of Bradford, Bert Wright of Canada, Canada; Mrs. Eastwood of Port Allegany, Mrs. Kittie Hayden of Cleveland, and Mrs. Myra Blauvelt of Shinglehouse. Her whole life had been spent in this vicinity.

Port Allegany—Orrin Parker Crandall, for many years a resident of Turtle Point, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Parker at Perry, N. Y., Monday morning. Mr. Crandall was 100 years old, having been born March 16, 1822, on a farm in Steuben county, N. Y. During recent years he had lived at Olean. For many years he served as constable at Turtle Point. His life was mostly spent in lumbering. The funeral was held at Annin Creek church Wednesday afternoon and burial was made in the Annin Creek cemetery.

Bradford—The death of John Gerald Peck, aged 18 years, occurred Thursday afternoon at the Bradford hospital as a result of injuries received when struck by an automobile driven by T. C. Mealy of Song Bird, three weeks ago. Mr. Peck was an extremely popular young man and his untimely death is deeply regretted. Funeral services were held Saturday morning.

Meadville—The Synod of Pennsylvania of the Presbyterian church will meet here October 24. This synod is the largest unit in the Presbyterian church, embracing 20 percent of the entire Presbyterian church membership and carrying a little more than 20 percent of the financial burden.

Mt. Jewett—Tuesday morning Edward Carl marched into the Echo office with a glass containing several strawberry stems with blossoms and green and ripe berries on them, which he had picked Monday afternoon on the Cuffey road, just north of the tannery. This is surely an unusual October.

Emporium—A truck loaded with eight barrels of gasoline and driven by A. Smith and Mark Blanchard both of Driftwood, plunged over a 60-foot embankment, east of Hamley Saturday night. Smith was injured seriously, but Blanchard escaped with minor hurts. Smith is thought to have suffered a dislocated shoulder. He was taken to the Dr. Bois hospital. One of two barrels of gasoline thrown from the truck hit the cow catcher of an engine on the track below and demolished it.

Bradford—Falling unconscious while in Leonard's drug store, Sunday morning, Mrs. Lavina Burleson, 67, died one-half hour later in the hospital without regaining consciousness. She is survived by her husband and one daughter. The remains were taken to Gowanda for interment.

Bradford—Mrs. Arthur Taylor, a resident of Bradford for 25 years, died Saturday evening. She was well known and highly respected. Her husband, one daughter, three sisters and three brothers, survive.

Olean—Leon T. Gooden, 28, freight conductor, was electrocuted a. 8 a. m., Saturday, when a high tension wire touched a telephone instrument which he attempted to use. Investigation revealed that insulation on a hightension wire above the phone had been removed causing the current to burn the pole to which the wire was fastened until the wire itself fell and, touching the telephone, charged it. Gooden, a former resident of Vandalia, had made his home in Olean since he married, five years ago.

HIGHWAY FROM OLEAN TO BUFFALO NOW OPEN.

The road from Olean to Buffalo, by the way of Franklinville, is now improved highway all the way, according to a report of Olean Automobile club.

The road between Yorkshire Corners and Chaffee, is now under construction, and motorists are taking the new road at the corners, going on the first improved road to the left to Sardinia and then through Holland to East Aurora and into Buffalo. A detour through Protection was formerly used.

The Conopus club will meet in regular session Monday evening, October 23.

TWO TINY WIRES

Each Bell Telephone subscriber is connected to the local central office by wires—two tiny wires.

These wires pass through a maze of cables and coils, through delicate apparatus that must be kept in careful adjustment.

And that isn't the end of it, for there must be apparatus to connect each telephone here with any other Bell Telephone in the nation.

The job of building and maintaining this complicated equipment is done by two-fisted men—men who think in terms of never failing service.

Theirs too is the task of installing new telephones, and of maintaining them.

In addition to their knowledge of telephone construction one outstanding quality characterizes these men—they are imbued with the spirit of courtesy.

When they come into your home or your office you find them anxious to do their work quickly, efficiently and neatly.

They want you to feel that should they return at some future day you will welcome them.

For they know, as do all Bell people, that courtesy pays.

ELECT A REPUBLICAN

In the coming session of the state legislature McKean county will be represented by but a single member in place of two representatives as formerly. It therefor behooves the voters of the county to see to it that this member is affiliated with the Republican party—the majority party—otherwise the county will be out of luck in the securing of improved roads, appropriations for institutions and numerous matters which it is preferably to have looked after by a man who is working in complete harmony with the administration.

The Republican candidate is Oscar E. Gustafson, of Wetmore township, who resides so close to the borough limits that we look upon him as one of our own. Mr. Gustafson is a hard worker and pledged to the policies of Hon. Gifford Pinchot, who is absolutely sure to be the next governor of the Commonwealth. He is certain to be a force that will bring to this county all that is coming to it. He will be one of the majority in the house who may be looked upon to receive favors from those who are in a position to bestow them. Favors that a member of the minority party, no matter how good a fellow he might be, could never possibly expect to receive.

McKean knows to its sorrow what it is to be represented in the lower house by two Democratic members or a divided delegation, but in those days the important matter of roads was not under consideration. Had this county been represented by Democratic members during the past four years it is safe to say that McKean could not be boasting of having secured more miles of hard surfaced road than any rural county in Northwestern Pennsylvania.

Makes no mistakes. Think the matter over carefully and then make it a point to go to the polls and vote for Oscar E. Gustafson, who will represent this county in a manner that would be impossible for a handicapped minority party member.

DEMOCRATIC DESPERATION

If the report of Candidate McSparren's visit to McKean County last Thursday, written by Special Correspondent J. M. Cummings and contained in the Philadelphia Record for Friday, October 15, affords a criterion by which to judge Democratic methods and inclinations, then it truthfully can be said that that party not only is in desperate need of votes, but its press bureau, of which Mr. Cummings is regarded as a fitting representative, will turn any trick, however questionable or despicable, to get votes.

In his report of the meeting at Smethort, Special Correspondent Cumings says:

"Probably the outstanding feature of the day was the meeting at Smethport, where McSparren and Judge Samuel E. Shull, nominee for the U. S. Senate, addressed teachers of McKean county, convened there for their annual institute. Here McSparren came into direct contact with the adverse propaganda sent broadcast by the publicity hirelings at Harrisburg. When he arrived in town he found extreme hostility from County Superintendent of Schools Lillibridge, who refused to dismiss the institute long enough to permit the teachers to hear the discourse of the Democratic candidates. In spite of this opposition the candidate for governor submitted his program to the teachers. McSparren spoke to the teachers by taking advantage of the noon recess, that brief interval he assembled the teachers in another room of the Smethport court house and there he unched a vigorous denunciation against the existing regime at the state capital."

Here are the facts of the situation: Mr. McSparren was advertised to address a mass meeting in Smethport at 1 p. m., at an hour when an important lecture was to be delivered at the teachers' institute. The institute was within 24 hours of adjournment and what, with paid lecturers and instructors to be heard, every hour was precious. The institute positively could not be adjourned. Local Democrats, when made aware of the actual state of affairs, accepted the situation philosophically. In common with some citizens generally, they realized that an adjournment would establish a bad precedent, whereby any and every candidate might consider it his sovereign privilege to address the teachers' institute, a nonpolitical organization. Again, Superintendent Lillibridge had no authority to adjourn the institute in behalf of a meeting of any complexion—political, religious, social or what not. At that, however, he stretched a point. It is a matter of record that the afternoon session of the institute was delayed until Mr. McSparren had all but finished speaking.

A broad-gauged man, Superintendent Lillibridge really wanted the teachers to hear the Democratic candidate and advised certain of the Democratic leaders to have the speech delivered at the noon hour, which in view of Mr. McSparren's arrival at the Grand Central hotel in time for dinner might have been arranged. That's all there was to the transaction. Yet withal, Correspondent Cummings, evidently animated by rank partisanship, charges Superintendent Lillibridge with what he is pleased to term "extreme hostility." Facts is, Mr. Lillibridge would have acted just the same if it had been Candidate Pinchot instead of Candidate McSparren.

PLANS SMASHING DRIVE.

A drive for a smashing old-time Republican majority at the November election was begun this week by W. Harry Baker, chairman of the Republican state committee.

Mr. Baker has enlisted the active support of every Republican worker in the state in getting every registered Republican voter to go to the polls. Plans to speed up the campaign were formulated at a meeting of the executive committee of the state committee held Wednesday afternoon at the state headquarters, Philadelphia.

"Everywhere you go in and out of Pennsylvania you hear people taking it for granted our candidates will be easily elected," said Mr. Baker. "But we are taking nothing for granted, and will work just as hard as though we had a real opposition and a real fight on our hands.

"There is no doubt of the election of Senators Pepper and Reed and of Gifford Pinchot. But what we want to make sure of is the return of a solid Pennsylvania Republican congressional delegation and in every district throughout the state we will hammer on this point until we are assured of victory for each and every one of our candidates.

"The party is closely in complete harmony and working together toward the common goal. The election this fall is one of the most important we have ever had. The personnel of the ticket stands out incomparable in the type of men presented, and I am confident Republican voters will respond in full measure of votes."

McSPARREN'S EXCITED NOW

In March, prior to the primaries, the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization, conducted a questionaire in which interrogations pertinent to the issue of the present campaign were directed to each of the candidates for nomination for governor. Answering one of the questions, John A. McSparran commended the official work of Gifford Pinchot. In part, McSparran said:

"With the exception of the department of forestry and possibly that of agriculture, I am in doubt as to whether there is any general policy.

"If I am elected it will be my pleasure to continue the excellent work of Mr. Pinchot until the waste land of our state is clothed with forests amply protected from fire as far as four years can bring that fine result to accomplishment."

At that time McSparran had no thought that Pinchot would be able to win the Republican nomination. But Pinchot did win, much to McSparran's discomfiture, and the Democratic candidate changed his tune. Nominee McSparran now talks about Nominee Pinchot in terms of severe criticism.

New York Man Called by Death While Visiting His Sister Here

Fred D. Butcher, aged 65 years, of East Randolph, N. Y., who came to Smethport two weeks ago to visit his sister, Mrs. H. J. Ellsworth, of East Main street, passed away at the Ellsworth home at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning, following a severe heart attack.

Although Mr. Butcher's health had not been good for some time, his death was wholly unexpected and proved a terrible shock not only to Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth, but to a number of friends and neighbors who had met and conversed with him.

Brief funeral services were held at the Ellsworth home Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Van Dyke officiating, following which the remains were taken to East Randolph, N. Y., where interment was made under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity.

Fred D. Butcher not only was a well known but a very prominent citizen of East Randolph. Born in Jamestown, N. Y., he removed to East Randolph some 40 years ago. Eighteen years ago he accepted a managerial position in the Western New York Home for Boys, which he filled with honor both to himself and the institution. He was both a Mason and an Odd Fellow. Throughout a goodly portion of western New York he enjoyed no little fame as a musician. Mr. Butcher never married. His only near relatives was his sister, Mrs. Ellsworth, who mourns the loss of one who not only was a devoted brother but a man of sterling integrity.

OCTOBER'S CHARM.

October is the month when Nature bedecks herself in royal colors, as if to celebrate the completion of growth and harvest, and begins her accounting for the years. It brings the hunter's moon, glorious and impressive with its mellow radiance on a clear night, as if to warm the world once more of the necessity for gathering and garnering and storing in preparation for the winter days not far away. It brings its own convincing proof to the world that summer is over and the real autumn has arrived.

As the brown shades of fall begin to show in the deep green of the meadows, and the trees and bushes on the hills beside the creek break out their seasonable colors, with ruddier hues and stronger shades, human thought and the attitude of mind are changed, for all in nature yields quick obedience to the spell of the march of the season so clearly announced in field and wood and sky. The vacation season is over, all the world knows it is time to be in work, to gather, to prepare, that the stern demand of winter, sure to be made upon us, may be successfully answered.

Summer is dead, no matter how over-friendly the sun may be with its surplus temperature at times, and with the passing of summer comes new duties, new novelties and new charms. It's a great month with its beauty, its colors, its changes, its gentle, but none the less impressive notes of warning revealed no matter in what direction we may turn, to make ready and be prepared. We have gathered the green of summer to our delight, and well being, now we turn to the ripe nuts that come tumbling from the trees, we gather the golden and ruddy fruit from the orchard, we garner, we make ready, in obedience to the laws of nature that control us.

October brings the gentle, thoughtful spirit of contemplation. What of the summer? Good? Medium? Poor? Bad? Have we been successful? If not, they why? October is a beautiful but a sober month and to the sobering influence all on earth bow, animal and man. As nature begins her annual accounting, we do the same. She is through. Are we?

RIDGWAY POWER PLANT HAS INCREASED OUTPUT TO MEET GREAT DEMAND.

For the purpose of providing an adequate supply of electric power to make possible the great development of the industries of Elk and McKean counties, the Keystone Power corporation is increasing the capacity of its power station at Ridgway. This Company furnishes electric power to St. Marys, Ridgway, Johnsonburg, Wilcox, Kane, Jamestown, Mt. Jewett and Smethport. A transmission line is now being built to supply the town of Kersey with electricity. When this line is completed, the company will have over 60 miles of high tension transmission lines.

The additions to the power station consist of two 1000 horse power Edgemoor boilers and a 8500 horsepower Westinghouse steam turbo generator (manufactured in Pennsylvania) together with the necessary auxiliary equipment. One of the new boilers has been completed and was fired up for the first time Saturday. This boiler is equipped with a ten retort Taylor stoker and is one of the most up-to-date equipped with a turbine driven forced draft fan and a motor driven induced draft fan. Construction work on the second boiler was commenced this week.

The turbo-generator is in process of being mounted on a concrete foundation, the top level of which is 15 feet from the ground. A long inclined runway has been built up to the top of the foundation and the heavy castings and parts of the apparatus will be pulled up this runway. This was used with remarkable success in this particular instance.

In addition to the installation of these new boilers and turbo-generator, another complete unit of the Ridgway substation is being built. This unit will be identical to the one now in use, which consists of three 1667 KVA transformers and the necessary switching and lightning protection equipment. The new unit of the substation will be connected directly to the new 8500 horsepower turbo generator, permitting isolated operation of this machine if necessary. This arrangement will provide the very best type of operation and greatly reduce possibilities of interruptions to service.

The growth of the Keystone Power corporation has been a very rapid one and reflects the industrial activity and progress in this section of the state. From a small 500 horse power station in 1911, it has grown until its capacity, with the new equipment, will be over 25,000 horse power.

STATE TAKES CHARGE OF ROAD NEAR ELDRED; SEIZED ALL PROPERTY.

Another shake-up occurred on the work on the state road north of town, last Friday, when the representative of the state highway department appeared on the job and put the department's tag on all of the property and by so doing put the work into the charge of the state.

There has been almost continual trouble about something in this job since it started, mostly because of the lack of sufficient funds to finance the work. It is probable that the state will require the bondsmen to place the completion of the work into the hands of some other parties and try to complete the work, although it is probable that cold weather will now prevent the completion that could have been, made had no so much time been lost during the good weather of the summer and fall.—Eldred Eagle.

JUDGE BOUTON TO TALK ON "MISTAKES" SATURDAY

Hon. Joseph W. Bouton will deliver an address on "Mistakes" at the court house on Saturday afternoon, October 21, at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the legislative committee of the Travelers' club. Judge Bouton's address will deal with subjects of vital interest to everyone in McKean county, and all thinking men and women are invited to come and hear him.

Three members of the department of forestry at Harrisburg, headed by Col. Henry M. Shoemaker and accompanied by Mr. Irving S. Mayford, of Philadelphia, were pleasant callers on C. W. Dickinson, Tuesday afternoon.

CONGRESS SEATS ARE IMPORTANT

This State Should Send Solid Delegation to Washington.

RETURN MEMBERS GOOD RULE

If Party Followed Tradition of Other States and Elected Congressmen Term After Term Prestige of Commonwealth Would be Greatly Enhanced.

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—Latest reports from canvassers in Pennsylvania, especially in the congressional districts swayed politically by the rail and mine strikes, show that the voters are realizing as the November election approaches that continued prosperity depends upon continued Republican supremacy in the nation and state. Especially are the voters seeing that defeat of members of Congress will work to their detriment by encouraging the Democrats in the presidential contest in 1924.

Early reports following a few weeks after the settlement of the rail and mine strikes showed that some of the voters intended visiting their displeasure for the industrial disorders on the Republican party. Since that time, the atmosphere has cleared and the voters are seeing clearly through the smoke screen, emitted by the opposition. They are saying that, "Republican control of Congress means prosperity for the workingman and good times." Of course, dissatisfaction which arises quickly and lingers long at times is not entirely from the minds of the voters in these Congressional districts where depression was rampant for many months during the coal strikes. This is only natural and therefore the voter believing in Republican principles owes it to himself and his own interests to aid the party workers in these districts to blot out the false impression and show by sane reasoning that the national administration was not responsible for last summer's ills.

COLONEL DAVID J. DAVIS

Should Return Members.

It must be fully realized that hard work is essential to complete success in the Congressional elections. Pennsylvania, the greatest Republican state in the Union, does not have the prestige in national affairs that her political strength and tax paying powers entitle her. And why is this? It is because the party has not followed the tradition of that New England commonwealth, Massachusetts, and continually returned members of Congress for years, until working under the seniority succession rule in Congress, its members are the leaders. Massachusetts today has the leader of the Senate, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge; the Speaker of the House, and the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee. She is in a commanding position in legislation.

Pennsylvania won distinction through this principal, by electing Senator Penrose, until in time he became chairman of the all-powerful Finance Committee. Today her place in national legislation is not so strong. Therefore, the continuance of the same members in Congress so that in time they may become heads of important committees should be the watchword of all Pennsylvania Republicans. If Republican members are defeated this year, the prestige they have gained will be lost and the new members must take their places at the end of committee assignments. Few voters think of this, but it is the thing the voters should always have in mind.

"Return the Republican incumbents, strengthen the Republican party in national legislation, and in party councils," said Representative George S. Graham. "Then the great principles of the Republican party will be safeguarded and the country assured of moving forward on its industrial expansion era."

"There are some bad spots in Pennsylvania, but these are not permanent," added Mr. Graham, "and I believe that the November election will show Pennsylvania has not faltered in her Republicanism."

Achievement Not Equalled.

Mr. Graham points to the record of the Republican party in the first and a half of the Harding administration. It is an achievement not equalled by any previous administration, reduction of taxation, elimination of unnecessary civilian employes, limitation of armaments, restriction of immigration to protect American workingmen from competition of aliens, and a tariff law protecting American skill and American industry. The record of the Congress has been so great and varied as to challenge study and critical analysis. It has now been written into law and these laws are operating to the benefit of American voters. This nation is a creditor nation today, the first time in her history, and the only big nation in such a position. It is free from war or threats of war, while the other great nations are involved in continued war debts, and forced to maintain heavy armies to prevent wars threatening.

An excellent reproduction of the new drop curtain in Valley Grange hall appears in this issue of The Miner. A brief history of Valley Grange and its progress to date will appear in next week's issue.

BABY GIRL DIES.

Ruby Estelle, infant twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter of Cole Creek, died Saturday evening at 10:15, after a long illness, aged 10 months. The funeral was held from the home Tuesday, Rev. Mr. Howard officiating. Interment in Lamphere cemetery at Eldred.

HE LIKES THE MINER.

In renewing his subscription to The Miner for another year, Mr. Cyrus Darrett, of 2546 First avenue, Huntington, W. Va., says:

"I like to get the paper, as it is from my old home town, and I have read The Miner for so many years that it is like a letter from home.

"We have not had any rain here for 26 days. It rained just a little Saturday night, but today (October 9) everything is dried up."

FORMERLY LIVED HERE.

The death of Mrs. Ella McElwee, a former resident of Smethport and mother of Charles McElwee of this place, occurred at Butte, Mont., Monday, October 2nd. She leaves to mourn her loss six daughters and four sons. She was a kind, loving mother, and very estimable lady, who will be missed by all who knew her.—Port Allegany Reporter.

TAKEN TO REFORMATORY.

Francis O'Neill, 19 years of age, convicted of larceny during the recent session of criminal court, was taken to the Huntingdon reformatory by Deputy Sheriff Conley, Wednesday. He will serve an indeterminate sentence.

PORT ALLEGANY WORKER FALLS BENEATH ENGINE BUT ESCAPES UNHARMED.

John Coy had a miraculous escape from a terrible death Tuesday evening, when he fell down on the railroad track near Andy Anderson's warehouse, and a P. R. R. engine passed completely over him. The engine was backing toward the station, and the engineer failed to see Coy. Just as the engine was passing over him, the fireman noticed him, and called for the engineer to stop. The emergency brakes were applied, but the engine could not be stopped before it had passed completely over him. Greatly excited by the supposed tragedy, the trainmen rushed over to the hospital, where they hastily summoned Dr. McGranor, who rushed to the scene with a stretcher. The men picked up Coy to place him in the stretcher, when to their astonishment he jumped up, unhurt, and threatened to lick the whole dozen. It can be considered a miracle that he was not hit by the engine, or dragged by the rods underneath the engine as it passed over him.—Port Allegany Reporter.

Ignition of Escaping Hydrogen.

There have been so many cases of spontaneous ignition of hydrogen gas when charging balloons that an investigation has been carried on to determine the cause. By observing in the dark a jet of hydrogen escaping through a pipe flange, it was found that a brush discharge of static electricity was plainly visible. When the pipe was tapped, to stir up the dust, an explosion occurred. From the investigation it would seem that the spontaneous ignition was due to the friction between the hydrogen and the dust of iron rust and to the brush discharge of static electricity from the electrified particles.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Best Radiator Paint.

Large radiators in rooms of the home do not present a very attractive appearance unless they are properly decorated. For this purpose a paint should be used which will harmonize with the wall colorings, and one of the best paints obtainable for this purpose is the ordinary sanitary flat wall paint that is used upon walls. It has been found that these paints dry with a flat surface having a high heat transmission factor. For heating efficiency as well as for decoration, these paints are therefore to be recommended.

PORTLAND CEMENT

THE same spirit of progress that replaced the horse with the automobile has replaced temporary, inflammable buildings with permanent fireproof structures.

One man has done much toward this change—your building material dealer—by heavy personal investment in slow moving, low profit stock—building materials.

His judgment in favor of permanence is vindicated by its nation wide acceptance. His judgment on individual materials is equally good. He calls Atlas "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."

STATE POMOLOGIST TELLS HOW TO CARE FOR APPLES.

The keeping of winter apples is dependent upon three things: sound fruit, proper handling, and clean, sanitary storage, according to Paul Thayer, Pennsylvania State College extension pomologist.

Since the crop is already grown it is too late to speak of production, but the manner in which McKean county farmers pick and store their fruit will have much to do with its keeping quality. When picking, it is well to remember that the skin of the apple is ordinarily impervious to germs of decay, and that every bruise and puncture gives these germs a chance to enter. Handle apples as though they are eggs. A caution not to be ignored if one desires long keeping fruit. Pulling apples from the tree so that the stem is torn from the fruit, shaking or clubbing, pouring roughly from one container to another, all these help to shorten the period of time that the apples will keep.

Careful picking is but half of the work. Fruit should be stored at once in a clean, sanitary storage cellar. Remove all refuse, clean the cellar thoroughly, and to make it still more sanitary, apply a coat of whitewash or spray with formalin copper sulfate, or other disinfectant. Be sure no odor remains for apples quickly absorb foreign odors. The apples should be stored in crates, which may well be given the same cleaning treatment. The apples should be put in the cellar in the cool of the morning, and the ventilation so regular as to keep the cellar cool without going below 30 degrees Fahr.

WILL REMOVE TO ALTOONA.

Mrs. Chester Matton will visit Smethport the latter part of this week in order to remove her household goods in the Karlen building to the home of her parents in Altoona, where, since the death of her husband resulting from the explosion in the acetone plant, she has made her home. Mrs. Matton's many friends in Smethport will regret her leavetaking.

FAMOUS WEATHER PROPHET PREDICTS SEVERE WINTER.

William O. Altman, weather prophet, who resides in the forest near Westline, has issued his forecast for the coming winter. Mr. Altman says that he has carefully observed the location of hornets' nests and their position in relation to the weather ever since he was a small boy. This year he finds that they are hanging high, a sure sign of a long winter with deep snow. The coat of the caterpillar is black this fall, which, according to his lore, forecasts severe cold. Other indications of a severe winter season are the multitude and thickness of beech leaves, a great crop of beech nuts and mountain berries.

DOG LICENSES INCREASE 30,000 OVER LAST YEAR.

Word from Harrisburg is to the effect that thirty thousand more dogs were licensed during the first eight months this year than were licensed all last year and the state department of agriculture accomplished this better enforcement of dog law with less than half the number of prosecutions made in 1921.

Enforcement of the dog law was taken from the county commissioners of the various counties and vested in the department of agriculture by the last legislature.

Westmoreland with 14,000 leads in the number of licensed dogs, while Lancaster has more than 12,000. Berks, Chester, Montgomery, Luzerne, and Washington each have more than 10,000. McKean County had 2,477 with 26 licensed kennels. 56 dogs were killed in the county and there was one prosecution. There were ten claims for damages, the amounts aggregating $348.15.

NOTICE.

All property owners in the Borough are requested to trim their shade trees from the ground up, to a height that will permit the free carrying of umbrellas on rainy days, and on Main street the trees should be trimmed up to the height of the top of the ornamental lights. This will make the lights more efficient, look much nicer and it will improve the trees and the lawns underneath. This is the time to trim trees, and if you will do it it at once the Borough will carry away the trimmings free of charge.

POLICE SCOUR COUNTRY FOR FELLOW WHO SWORE HE WOULD MURDER MAN.

A special dispatch says that authorities of Forest county are searching for Joseph Bianco, recently released from the state penitentiary, where he served a seven-year sentence for the shooting of District Attorney M. A. Carringer in 1915. They think he may know something about the murder of a man whose decapitated body was found October 6 in the woods at Watsonfarm. There was nothing in the man's clothing to establish his identity, but he is believed to have been John Booth, an oil driller.

The shooting of the district attorney resulted from the dismissal of a charge against Booth by Bianco, who accused him of assaulting his 13-year-old daughter. The prosecutor dropped the case when a physician reported that there was no evidence of an attack upon the girl. When Booth was discharged Bianco is alleged to have sworn that he would cut off his head and pierce his heart. He also is said to have threatened the district attorney. In any event he shot him a few weeks later.

The man whose body was found last week was killed in just the manner Bianco is alleged to have said he would slay Booth.
